Featured Class of the Week—Technology

This week in Ms. Lawson's computer class, the primary students are studying key facts about internet safety. They are learning the importance of keeping their personal information off the internet, things to look for in a stranger danger, and that they should always get permission before downloading software on their computer. As fun as the internet can be, the kids are realizing that they must remain alert to keep bad people and viruses away. Even Hanna Montana can be a threat online!

Transportation Reimbursement

This is a final reminder that parents who live less than 1 1/2 miles from the school and want to apply for Serious Safety Hazard must do so no later than February 1, 2009.
